

NEW

PRODUCTS FOR Free Play

Jambette has new products for free play that give children the opportunity to express their talents and develop their creativity.

Designed to stand the test of time, these new products can be installed in public spaces for children to try their hand at activities that enhance their cognitive, social and creative development.

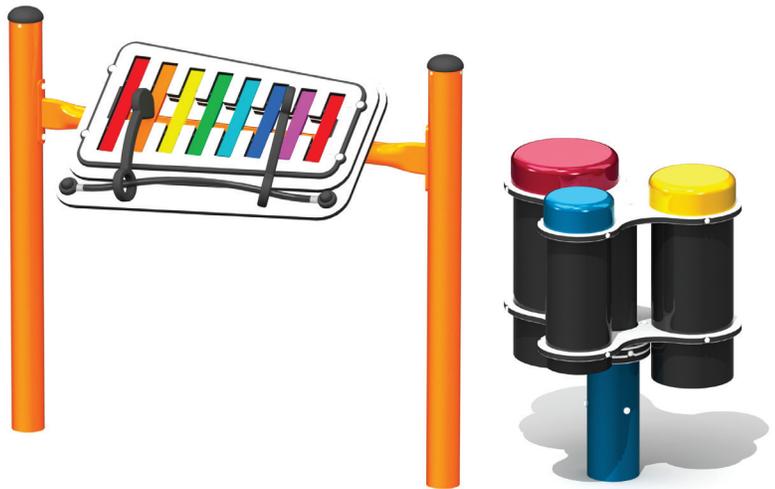

KITCHENETTE

This product will be very popular with the youngest visitors to your parks. The set includes many items that foster imitation play, an important phase in children's development. There are even storage areas for kitchenware (not included). This product is anchored to the ground using a stringer system.
