What is free play?

In contrast to structured play, free play is a recreational time that has not been organized by an adult and that does not rely on any electronic entertainment system like a video game. Free play lets the child lead. The child is the instigator, directs the game, comes up with the objectives, defines how it unfolds and decides on the outcome.

Free play*, as designed by Jambette, starts with THE PLAN, the most versatile structure available, and comes with a trunk of accessories that children can install, assemble and modify themselves!

Jambette's MY FREE PLAY, set was designed to align perfectly with the essential foundations of free play:

- A sufficient quantity of free time;
- The freedom to explore and choose;
- A space where adults don't intervene*;
- Items to stimulate the imagination.

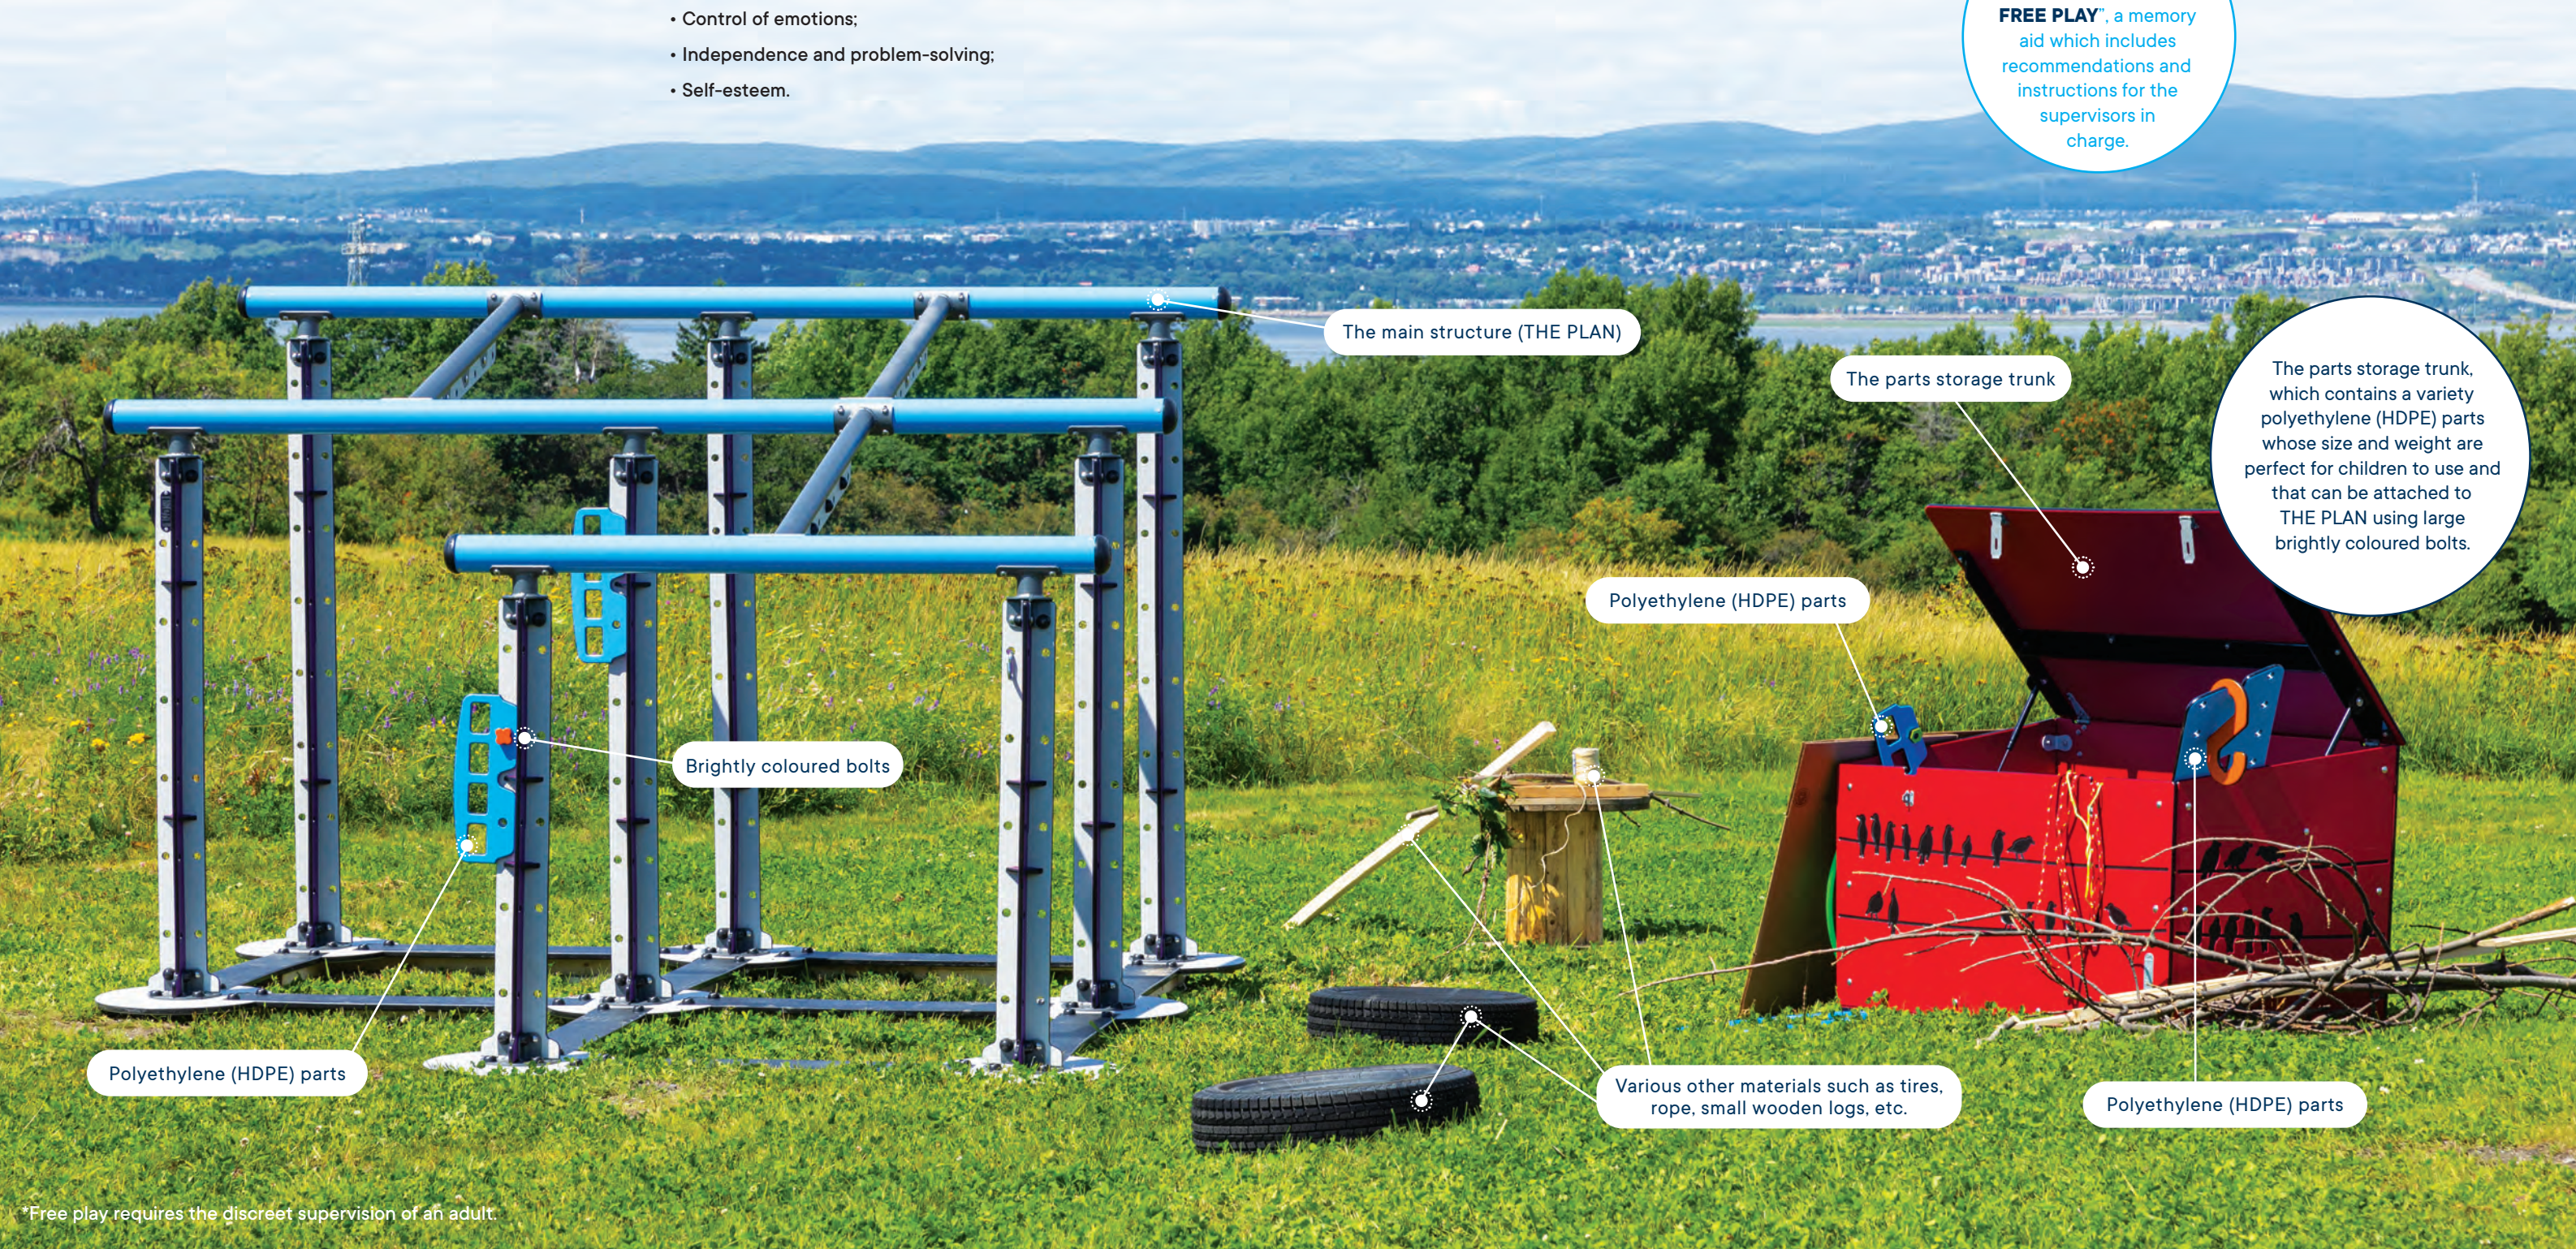

The benefits for the child are numerous because free play fosters their psychic, intellectual and motor development with learning that specifically focuses on:

- Imagination and creativity;
- Control of emotions;
- Independence and problem-solving;
- Self-esteem.

With MY FREE PLAY, children become the playground designers!

You will also receive
"INTRODUCTION TO FREE PLAY", a memory aid which includes recommendations and instructions for the

An exciting new dawn

MY FREE PLAY is the first free play equipment introduced in the institutional recreational equipment industry.

MY FREE PLAY originates from the ADVENTURE LAB, the free play laboratory created by Jambette and Le Patro de Lévis in 2019.

MY FREE PLAY was also made possible through the research on free play commissioned by Jambette and conducted by the Université du Québec à Rimouski in collaboration with the Université du Québec à Trois-Rivières.

MY FREE PLAY also draws inspiration from the free play initiatives led by many organizations in Quebec, Canada and elsewhere in the world.
